“Soundlooking, hearseeing, seehearing, hearing and imagining lines of sonic shape and form – texture, melody, rhythm, harmonies, polyrhythms conjured from contours, shapes and colours of things seen – is both the essence and impetus behind the twelve year, one month per year, visual-music project I set in motion with January Music in 2014.

June Music (2019) evolved with a spontaneous collection of sea & sun weathered tree-roots and branches, from a shoreline I regularly walk on Motutapu Island. Each unique form suggested a sound contour and ratio of frequency, colour and rhythm, one sound-stick completed per day, through the month of June last year, 2019.”
